

Prof. Raghu Prakash

“Dr. Raghu Vasu Prakash is a senior Professor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology Madras (IIT Madras). He specializes in the areas of structural integrity assessment, remaining life prediction of critical components used in transportation and energy sectors. Prior to joining IIT Madras, he served National Aerospace Laboratories (NAL), Bangalore as a Scientist; BiSS Research, Bangalore as Technical Director and had a brief stint at National Taiwan University, Taipei as Visiting Scientist/Professor. He has won several prestigious awards and recognitions and serves in the editorial boards of Journals such as Frattura ed Integrità Strutturale (IGF Journal), Journal of Structural Longevity and Journal of Life Cycle Reliability and Safety Engineering. He has published 6 book volumes, 100+ Journal/book chapter publications; he is a voting rights member of ASTM Technical committees D-30, E-08 and E-28 and is a founding life member and EC member of the Indian Structural Integrity Society (InSIS).